

Paula Popenfoose

Suzuki teaching has provided a framework for my entire life, in marriage, in parenting, and in life focus.

Paul Young

As a faculty member of the Indianapolis Suzuki Academy, I am pleased to unite with fellow Suzuki teachers from around Indiana, and to join the board of the Suzuki Association of Indiana.

Liz Efroymsen-Brooks

Cello faculty for Indianapolis Suzuki Academy. Certified in cello Books 1-10 + Cello Practicum. Helping to form SAI

Karen Walls

Private studio 12-20 students. Pre-twinkle through Book 3. I offer monthly group lessons, recitals, and play-ins at nursing homes and other venues. I also teach interested parents how to play & do this free of charge providing they have a paid student in my studio. 11 years experience.

Diana Hummel

Suzuki teacher for 28 years. Suzuki parent of 3 girls for 29 years. Teaching studio of 11 students at present as a teacher for NCCSC elementary strings. Had a private studio in Illinois for 12 years, University of Evansville for 12 years and Bloomington 4 years.

Danna Kostroun

former student/current parent

Rachel Gries

Indianapolis Suzuki Academy. I appreciated getting to know and work with other teachers who are dedicated to the Suzuki philosophy.

Emily J. Thompson

Suzuki violin teacher based in Marion, Indiana

Dawn Evans

Suzuki piano teacher in Bloomington, IN Private studio

Emilie Grondin

Private cello and chamber music studio in Mishawaka. Teach string ensembles and preschool/kindergarten music at Stanley Clark School in South Bend and conductor of the Concert Orchestra of the South Bend Youth Symphony Orchestras.

Blaise Poth

Director of the Indianapolis Suzuki Academy, Director of the Summer Suzuki String Institute at the University of Louisville, Louisville, Ky. Teach private lesson in Indianapolis and Louisville, Chamber Music Coach for ISA. Teach two Suzuki in the Schools Programs in Louisville, KY.

“When great minds come together food things will happen to promote in the Suzuki philosophy across the great state of Indiana”

Kim Fanning

Cello, violin & viola; teaches in Floyds Knobs, IN @ Boaz Performance Academy owns & teaches @ Notable Beginnings Music School in Louisville, KY. Did books 1-4 on cello & 1-3 on violin. Teaching Suzuki since 2004. Also have done ECE level 1 & SPA. Mother of Lucas (2) and expecting twins in Dec. Also teach Music Appreciation@ Jefferson Community & Technical College